About the program

Youth tennis teams will be formed for co-ed age divisions 5-6, 7-8, and 9-10. The team practice and match play activities will be conducted at the Greenville High School Tennis courts. Parent supervision will be required at these events. Coaches, Assistants and Volunteers are not required to be an advanced player and the program offers a weekly lessons plan for each team. The program is designed for the players to “Play to Learn”.

Each participant will learn the new concepts and techniques being used to introduce youths to playing tennis. Bobby Castillo, the YMCA Tennis Instructor, will team-up with the volunteers to demonstrate the teaching process, scoring system and match play activities.

The YMCA will be providing special promotional events for this new program on the dates listed below. Parents and their children are encouraged to attend one of the promotional events to learn more about the program. There will be “live” demonstrations of the instructional program being utilized to teach participants such as; type of tennis equipment that will be used, new tennis court configurations, review coaches practice plans, and you will have the opportunity to meet with the Tennis Instructor to receive a testimonial on how the tennis program will benefit your child and enable him/her to play a “life-time” sport.

The new Tennis teaching and playing concept is being completed across the nation and internationally. This program enables the player to be an active team member and compete at their playing-level. Thousands of youths have already benefited from this program and progressed to the next level and maybe one of our participants will some day be a US OPEN winner!
